Projects

---

Pomodoro timer | HTML, CSS, Javascript

October 2023

- Developed a web-based timer based on the pomodoro technique which allowed users to focus on their tasks by focusing on it for a set interval and taking breaks in between.
- Implemented javascript to handle page interaction and carry out the timer activities.
- Additionally implemented a to-do list to help users keep track of their tasks.
- Designed the page beautifully and implemented dark/light modes to enhance user experience.

Pig game | HTML, CSS, javascript

November 2023

- Created a web-based pig game where users can roll dice and add the value to their score.
- After a die is rolled, users can either roll again or add their current score to their total score.
- If they roll a 1, their current score is reset to zero.

IPL website clone | HTML, CSS

March 2024

- Re-designed the official IPLT20 website the clone wars competition.
- Added image carousel in the main page and designing the points table along with setting the layout of the teams page.
- Brought in API integration for current match scores and future match fixtures. Also embedded getty and youtube for match related images and videos.
